Will July 19th really bring the long-awaited end to covid restrictions? It seems so. Whatever happens, we have managed perfectly well throughout the pandemic – ensuring we keep to the ever-changing rules and adapting so that we can continue serving all our happy customers!

We still offer seated tea, coffee and food but with the covid rules still in place. Sample our superb flapjacks with a tea or coffee on the picnic benches outside or in our tearoom. Our mini shop remains in operation and masks still must be worn indoors until July 19th. After that it will be up to you.

We are running the occasional summer evenings hosting a takeout van, along with pudding and drinks plus a little music! Last Friday we hosted The Bing Bang Pizza Co; and it was a sell-out! Watch this space for forthcoming events! Please kindly note we do not allow dogs on the farm as we are a food production site.

With this warm humid summer our “garden” at PYO really has burst into life and we have plenty of fresh fruit and vegetables.

Strawberries and gooseberries are ready to pick now – and loads of other soft fruit such as tayberries, red currants and raspberries will be ready to pick very soon: it looks to be a bumper July! The fields are still bursting with delicious berries! This could be our last big picking week for the strawberry crop so please hurry along before they all go! New potatoes are in season too! Freshly dug, straight from the field!

Our hens are still laying – so free-range eggs are available. Bring a box if you want some eggs!

We still have in stock all the usual lovely items regular customers have come to expect and more! We are also still taking online or phone orders and can arrange pick up times. For anyone wishing to collect out of normal shop hours - that is also fine, and we can arrange a timeslot to suit.

Check out our advert below showing our latest offerings which takes us from July into August!
